

The Shamanic Journeys & Alchemical Healing Newsletter

- Laya Raznick's free interview series, Catch the Happiness Bus, starts Monday, April 25. My interview airs on Friday, May 6.

Dear Friends,

Happy Wesak, Passover, and the day after Earth Day (which should be every day)! There is an upcoming event I feel strongly about. I am taking part in an unusual interview series, the subject of which is happiness. Obviously that word means different things to different people—For me, it speaks to a natural state of joy, which is our birthright and far too rare these days. I am actually quite excited regarding the quality of this interview as well as the quality of many of the other teachers who are participating.

Happy Wesak

Included in this series are:

*~ Neale Donald Walsch
~ Jean Houston
~ Lynn Andrews
~ Jennifer McLean
~ Gangaji*

And me!

~ PLUS 20 other wisdom keepers speaking about accessing happiness, what it means, and how to find and sustain it in these turbulent times.

I think the most potent way I can share my respect for Laya Raznick as an interviewer and event coordinator is to share with you the interview we did for her last series a few months ago. It was her first attempt at this type of event and yet I got more response from this interview than any other in the last few years. To hear it, go to the following link from her "Bountiful Energy" series from the Radio Interview and Broadcast page on my website:

The new series starts on Monday, April 25, and my show airs Friday, May 6. Please share this post with anyone you know who needs a lift (which is probably just about everyone...)

When I wrote this yesterday, it was a very auspicious day on many levels— Earth Day, the first day of Passover, the Wesak full moon weekend, and as on all days, a time to count our blessings and be grateful for every moment we are alive. Whereas other countries measure their success by Gross National Product, the king of Bhutan measures the success of his country by Gross National Happiness. In addition, every day is a good day to remember that the Pursuit of Happiness is a right, conferred upon us by the US Constitution.

In joy,
Nicki Scully
